We have submitted our Solstice Designs for the tent and ornament. Kizalia was the winning submission so she will have the honor of hanging Willow Hall's Ornament upon the Solstice tree as well as her choice of a prize from the prize closet.

Our designs were:

Snacks:

a handful of roasted cinnamon chestnuts

You take a bite of your roasted chestnuts. Sugary cinnamon and hints of orange zest coat the crunchy nuts.

a toasted coconut and chocolate drop

You take a bite of your toasted coconut and chocolate drop. Crunchy, sweet coconut mixes with the bittersweet dark chocolate.

That was the last of it!

a goblet of spiced nog

You take a sip of your spiced nog. The beverage is thick and creamy with a rich nutmeg flavor.

a chocolate peppermint tart

You take a bite of your tart. The cocoa-infused pastry shell is filled with a creamy peppermint mousse.

a sugar-dusted gingerbread cookie

You take a bite of your cookie. Powdered sugar melts into the soft, spicy cookie.

a mug of white chocolate cocoa

You take a sip of your cocoa. The cocoa is rich and warm with a creamy white chocolate flavor.

Give Away Item:

a soft ivory wool scarf pinned with a silver snowflake - neck worn

Solstice Tree Ornament:

a spun glass willow tree ornament

Pale green glass flecked with gold has been spun to create a delicate willow tree. Tiny red, green and blue colored crystals have been nestled among the twisting, upturned branches barren of leaves. Suspended within a circular ebonwood frame, the glass tree spins freely, the brilliant crystals reflecting the light. Something is carved into the polished ebonwood frame of the ornament.

The vote for Branch Guardian has been closed and the winner was Ohnus. Congratulations Ohnus, our new co-chairman!

Cheas says, "Anybody else have anythin' the wantin' ta bring up at da meetin today?"

[Mamu [Willow Hall]: "I have a few items I am putting together to donate to the prize closets for any upcoming events we have."

Cheas [Willow Hall]: "Prize closet kind of dont work through donations, but your donations be accepted and we can hold onto them to give out as a prize at an event!"

Mamu [Willow Hall]: "Ah yes, that's what I meant. Thank you Cheas."

Cheas [Willow Hall]: "Just make sure you get 'em to an officer for storage!"

"Soh! If der be no more tings ta discuss?" "I guess i gonna have ta make dis meetin' offically closed!"

Cheas then adjourned the meeting.
