

Meeting minutes for Day of the Huntress, day 25 of the month Charlatos in the year 5111

Members in Attendance: Rasti, Anta, Landrat, Kysari, Anemegus, Jeafwsian, Ranalandil with Kizalia on the amulet.

Guests and Prospective Members: Shysmile

Ranpalandil called the meeting to order and reported that he had desposited 200k to the hall coffers from the shop and that we are nearly out of arrows.

Ranpalandil says, "Well the Teras annex has it's food and this completes our tour of annexes."

Ranpalandil [Willow Hall]: "So we have a map case designed by Kizalia, a bow designed by Rasti, Landrat is working on a fishing rod, creel and chest; Rasti is working on a skinning knife and a foraging bag. Anta is working on a compass, Aisalt is working on a pink thrak toy and Kizalia and Anta were talking about a hunting horn." "If I get everything everyone is working on, that will make 10 and I can submit the requests. I need to get them in within the next 6 days."

Ranpalandil would like to hear from our members which annexes they feel are priority to have moved and improved and also would like to hear their ideas on where they should be placed, what they should look like on the outside and if they need any changed on the inside.

Ranpalandil [Willow Hall]: "Personally I'd like to get them all outside the towns. Maybe put a few of them in trees. But I especially want to hear from our members who reside outside of the Landing what changes they feel need to be made to their local annexes to make them feel more like home."

Kysari quietly asks, "Is there a way to find out which annexes are used the most, and make those priority?" "Would make sense in the long run, to start with the ones most used, i would think.."

Rasti says, "So we need to see where the members spend their time."

Rasti asks, "How many IPs per annex?"

Ranpalandil says, "I think it was 8."

Rasti says, "So the most we could do would be 3 each year."

Ranpalandil says, "And I turn in the fireplace room before the week is up."

Rasti says, "After we finish with the Fireside rooms, the additional portraits and the prize sets we might be able to do one this year." "So yeah I say we vote on it and maybe go there to host our Fall festival."

Ranpalandil says, "I say we get our design ideas together, count out our IP and submit for an annex or two the following quarter."

Rasti says, "I'll do the math but I think we'll be lucky to outfit one this year after we clear up our current projects."

Landrat darkly says, "We prolly finds dat other den Landin , Illistim and here be most used."

Kysari quietly asks, "I wonder could it be located in a big treehouse?"

Ranpalandil says, "That was kind of my thought."

Rasti says, "Only problem with the going off the roads in TI (if that's where we'll build it) is the bandit issues."

Anta says, "Could build it in Sylvarraend. "Just at the turn off for it, it's about halfway between Ta'llistim and the lake of fear ferry."

Kysari quietly says, "I actually know a good place here for it." "There is a place, just on the other side of the bridge outside of town..."

Anta says, "So Kizalia mentioned." "That she thinks it would be fun to do a scavenger hunt in the Elven Nations, sometime after the Spitfire event."

Landrat darkly says, "Mags has asked me to ask for all the rods he can get and he'll try top make some for de mixer too."

Ranpalandil says, "Everyone please get your prize closet designs to me in the next few days."

Ranpalandil then initiated our newest member Shysmile, everyone give her a warm welcome if you see her!

Following the meeting we took a stroll outside the gates to view potential annex expansion spots.
